FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Ingenious New Cane Handle Gives Seniors a Lift

Buena Park, CA - October 26, 2010 - Who hasn't watched an elderly friend, neighbor, or loved one struggle to stand? We're often there to lend a hand, but when we're not, now there's another way to help.

Sky Med, a company recently established in southern California, is a leading home medical equipment innovator, creating new products for the industry that are often simple but offer value-added features and new takes on traditional products.

A product that exemplifies these characteristics is the Sky Med Lifting Handle, an invaluable aid for patients and the elderly who may experience difficulty in rising from a seated position. A beautifully simple design, the Lifting Handle is easily installed or removed, and is suitable for use with most standard 7/8" diameter walking canes. No tools are needed; simply fit the height adjustable handle to standard walking canes for use.

The Sky Med Lifting Handle allows the user to utilize their own weight against the cane to rise to a standing position from a seated one with less effort and dramatically increased stability, lessening the chance of falls and injury. Even better, the confidence offered by the Lifting Handle encourages seniors to get up and move about, fostering a more inclusive and active lifestyle.

Emma Lai, National Sales Manager at Sky Med, heads up a talented, diverse and energetic team dedicated to using their extensive experience to serve the HME industry and the end users it serves. Said Lai, "Coming up with ideas like this that are simple, cost effective, and make a difference in people's lives is what we're all about."

Sky Med products and innovations can be seen at Medtrade Atlanta, November 16-18, 2010, at booth 2526.
